FISTIC CARNIVAL NEXT ON TAPIS

ED. WILSON HAS MATCHED TERRY MUSTAIN AND BOB WARD.

Ed. Wilson, who has leased the Casino Athletic Club building, proposes to furnish Tonopah fight fans with the best the market affords. He has been in communication with managers of some of the top notchers in the world and will pull off a fistic carnival on June 12 that should bring lovers of the manly art to Tonopah in droves. The initial card will be a fight between Terry Mustain, who has innumerable victories to his credit and who is well known in southern Nevada as a man who will give his backers a run for their money, and Bob Ward of Oakland, champion amateur heavyweight of the United States and Canada. Ward is well known to all fight lovers on the Pacific coast, having been a product of the Olympic Club of San Francisco.

Mr. Wilson also proposes to put on as a preliminary a battle royal, to be participated in by six heavy negroes. This will be the first of a series of prize ring events to occur within the next six months.

RAWHIDE LEASE HAS RICH ORE

(Special to the Bonanza.)
RAWHIDE, Nev., May 25.—The Price lease on the Rawhide Bluff Mining Company's ground has uncovered a nice body of ore at a depth of 50 feet. They are now sacking the stuff, which goes better than $150 per ton. The Bluff mine is owned principally by Tonopah parties, namely: Zeb Kendall, W. B. Pittman, Roger Dougherty, Bob Govan and Dan Ryan. O. B. Kemp, the general manager of the property, is highly elated and says that the property will be one of the greatest in this camp.

BLEW DOWN LIME HOUSE.

The high wind of yesterday afternoon was the cause of the lime house of the Montana Tonopah mill being scattered to the four winds of heaven. Large slabs of sheet iron were blown in every direction, being a menace to the pedestrians in that vicinity. The building will be reconstructed at once.

If you desire tiling or binding in a first-class manner call up the Bonanza and our collector will attend to your wants.

FOLLOWS THE DEAD GOVERNOR

"RILEY" DAVIS ANSWERS THE LAST SUMMONS AT CARSON CITY.

Slightly over twenty-seven hours after Governor John Sparks passed away at his home near Reno, his secretary, William Riley Davis died at his home in Carson City, and the nature of the complaint of the two men was to a considerable degree alike. Death came to Mr. Davis Saturday morning a few minutes before the noon hour, while Governor Sparks died the previous day at 8:30 o'clock. The Carson News has the following account of the incidents surrounding his death:

Mr. Davis had been ill slightly over a week, but from the second day of his illness little hope was entertained for his recovery, owing to his age and frail constitution. He died without the knowledge that his chief and dearest friend, Governor Sparks, had crossed the bar before him.

Death came peacefully after days of suffering, as the patient fell into a sleep from which he never awakened, passing from life to the great beyond without regaining consciousness. For the last several days of his life he was in a comatose condition and when he roused from this condition he was unable to communicate with those at his bedside owing to the fact that he could not articulate.

The deceased was born in Indiana in October, 1840, and came to Nevada when 22 years of age. He first engaged in ranching business with his brother, C. N. Davis, making a success of that line. Later he was chief clerk at the United States mint in this city under Supt. Garrard. He was elected recorder of Lyon county and held that position for four consecutive terms. Later he was deputy treasurer of State under Treasurer Westerfield and in 1898 he became the private secretary to Governor Reinhold Sadler, holding that position during the remainder of the term. When John Sparks was elected Governor, he became secretary to him and remained in that position until his death.

Mr. Davis was a brainy, broad-minded man and recognized as one of the best read and best posted men about the capitol. He was always very careful and conscientious about his work and seldom committed an error. Matters of great import were frequently left to him for decision, and his conclusions were usually accepted as final.

One brother, C. N. Davis, of this city, and two children, Miss Bertha of this city, and John Davis, who is attending the State university, and a half sister and a half brother, survive.

The funeral services will be held at the residence in this city on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in the local cemetery.

FAREWELL.

R. R. Garcia, one of the proprietors of the Tonopah Lignor Company, will leave this morning for Portland, Oregon, having been called there by the death of his daughter, Marjorie.

(Geo. A. Montrose, editor and proprietor of the Bridgeport Chronicle-Union, pays the following tribute to a former Bodie young lady and the daughter of one of Tonopah's citizens:)

This little squib, clipped from the Tonopah Bonanza, tells its simple tale of the death of a former Bodie girl, who, in the days when we were school kids, sat with us in the same old room and shared our childhood's pleasures and pains. Marjorie was a lovable girl and though we have not met since we were first in our teens, we know that she was always the same. Poor Marjorie, dear girl, may her rest be one of peace and the snows of winter and the verdure of the springtime clothe her last resting place in a tender embrace.

ALIEN EXODUS ON THE INCREASE

NEW YORK, May 25.—Immigration authorities say that the home-ward tide of foreigners is again on the increase. European steamers in the past four days have carried away not less than 10,400 aliens as steerage passengers. The week's total is expected to reach upwards of 17,000.

Statistics show that since October, between 475,000 and 500,000 laborers have departed, and no let-up is looked for by the steamship companies for some time to come. The shutting down of factories, suspension of railroad and public improvement work, and the general cessation of business activity that has thrown thousands out of employment, are held to be responsible for the movement eastward.

During the first four months of 1907 the total exodus of laborers was 96,731 while for the first four months of this year the figures reached 239,010, an increase of 142,279.

WOMAN'S LUCK WINS A FORTUNE

RENO, Nev., May 25.—The pluck and grit of Mrs. Sylvia Casey, a young widow of southern Nevada, resulted in her making a fortune, the result of a mining deal this week. Last winter, six months after her husband, James Casey, had been killed in a mine accident at Goldfield, she trudged through the snow and sleet and over the funeral range into the Tule canyon on the edge of Death Valley to locate a group of claims for which many others were awaiting an opportunity to jump.

With her own toil she performed the assessment work alone, put up her notices and made her way back to Goldfield, where she has since been earning her living. By the deal this week she has bonded the Tule canyon property for $50,000, insuring her independence for the balance of her days. Mrs. Casey is scarcely 23 years of age.

BUTLER DRAWS CROWDED HOUSES

The Butler theater presented an exceptionally good change of program last evening. The opening song by Miss Emmett, entitled "If I Had a Thousand Lives to Live," is very pretty and was well rendered. The first picture, "Animated Portraits," is a view of the black art, where portraits come to life. It is very interesting. "Good Luck for the Coming Year" is a very funny view of a young lady who is advised by one of her friends to be sure to kiss a soldier so as to have good luck for the ensuing year. She starts out to find one and her experiences are very funny. The song, "No One to Love Me," has a very cute and catchy melody that pleases everyone. The next picture, "Repentance," is a view of a woman who tries to poison a man she does not like, by placing some poisonous liquid in his coffee. As it happens the gentleman does not care for the coffee at the time and finally gives it to the woman's little daughter, who is taken violently ill after drinking it. By the merest chance the girl does not die, and the crime is fixed on the guilty party. "The Highly Scented Bouquet" is a view of a loving husband buying flowers to bring home to his wife. Some waifs, who happen along, put cayenne pepper on the flowers. Not noticing this the husband gives them to his wife and she commences to sneeze violently, causing much consternation in that household. Miss Emmett sings for her second number, "Killarney," in a way that pleases. The picture, "For a Flower," is a view of two rivals who vow anything to please the object of their devotion. She makes them go after a rose, which she carries, over a perilous cliff. The one getting the coveted rose of course wins the fair lady. The song, "True Heart," is a beautiful patriotic song that causes much applause. "The Tramp Hypnotist" is a very comical view of a tramp that causes much havoc at a country dance by playing various pranks on the rubes. They finally catch him at his tricks and he is a sorry looking sight when they get through with him. "The entire performance is exceptionally good, and undoubtedly will be a great drawing card this week."

TONOPAH MEET WITH DEFEAT

SCORE WAS HIGH BUT THE GAME WAS FULL OF SENSATIONAL PLAYS.

Monotona-Tonopah 28.

Look at these figures and pause, for in pausing you may be able to figure out how it all happened. It was at California Heights Sunday afternoon, where smartly groomed men and beautifully gowned women sat on the benches in the grand stand and saw Superintendent Blackburn, nattily clad in white duck trousers and pongee shirt, toss the ball over the plate while the huskies from the Montana knocked home runs in every direction. It was a game replete with sensational plays, good batting, fielding and base running, and then some. The Mizpahs will play at Millers on Saturday, where they will give the dwellers of the desert city a few pointers in high class baseball.

CONSIDERABLE ACTIVITY.

James G. Dehy and wife came in from Blair yesterday morning. Mr. Dehy is a civil engineer with offices at Blair and has just completed a map of that district. He reports considerable activity in that district and also says there is a great deal of prospecting going on in the camps of Birch Creek, Cow Camp and Stimler, especially in the latter camp, where a great number of leasers are working. Mr. and Mrs. Dehy return to Blair this morning.

Ladies of the L. G. A. R. and Relief Corps, and veterans' wives and daughters, please call at Mrs. Brann's Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock and make arrangements for Decoration Day.
